THE CANON OF THE BIBLE: THE NEW TESTAMENT (NT)

The first word of the NT was written about 50 A.D. (1Thess), the last word between 90-100 A.D. (Rev), for a total of 27 books, all of which are accepted as canonical and inspired by Catholics and Protestants alike. The question is, who determined the NT canon of inspired books? The Bible didn't fall from heaven preprinted, so where did we get it? How do we know we can trust every book?

Various bishops developed lists of inspired books:

- Mileto, Bishop of Sardis, c. 175 A.D.
- St. Irenaeus, Bishop of Lyons, 185 A.D.
- Eusebius, Bishop of Caesarea, c. 325 A.D.

Pope Damasus in 382 A.D., prompted by the Council of Rome, wrote a decree listing the present OT and NT canon of 73 books.

The Council of Hippo (in North Africa) in 393 A.D. approved the present OT and NT canon of 73 books.

The Council of Hippo (in North Africa) in 397 A.D. approved the same OT and NT canon. This is the council which many Protestants and Evangelicals take as the authority for the NT canon of books.

Pope St. Innocent I (401-417) in 405 A.D., approved the 73-book canon and closed the canon of the Bible.

The Canon of the Bible was officially determined in the fourth century by Catholic councils and Catholic councils and Catholic popes. Until the canon was decided, there was much debate. Some were of the opinion that certain canonical books, Hebrews, Jude, Revelation, 2 Peter, were not inspired, while others held that certain non-canonical books, Shepherd of Hermas, Gospels of Peter and Thomas, the letters of Barnabas and Clement, were inspired. The formal church decision settled the matter for the next 1400 years. Not until the Reformation was there any more debate about the contents of the Bible.

The conclusion to The New Testament continues next week...

THE LORD OF LIFE

At this bountiful time of year, our Sunday readings teem with life and abundance. Both the first reading, from the Book of Wisdom, and the Gospel passage from Mark assure us that God did not make death or even will us to be ill. Illness and death entered the world through the presence of evil, the Wisdom author tells us. Mark's stories of Jesus healing a hemorrhaging woman and resuscitating a dead little girl make it clear that Jesus is from God. As the Son of God he does not will that anyone suffer illness or death. In the face of such power, the second reading, from Paul's Second Letter to the Corinthians, provides a stark contrast. Jesus, who could raise the dead to new life, "though he was rich, for your sake he became poor" (2 Corinthians 8:9). Our gift of new life from Christ demands our response in charity.

EL SEÑOR DE LA VIDA

En este tiempo tan fecundo del año nuestras lecturas dominicales rebosan con vida y abundancia. Tanto la primera lectura, del Libro de la Sabiduría, como la tercera del Evangelio de San Marcos nos aseguran que Dios no creó la muerte, ni quiere que suframos de ninguna enfermedad. Fue por la envidia del diablo que la muerte entró al mundo, según nos dice el Sabio. Y lo que San Marcos nos cuenta sobre la curación de la hemorroisa y la resurrección de la hija de Jairo nos muestran claramente que Jesús viene de Dios. Como Hijo de Dios, Jesús no quiere que nadie sufra enfermedad ni muerte. Pero en el contexto de tanto poder, la segunda lectura, de la segunda carta de San Pablo a los corintios, nos presenta un fuerte contraste. Jesús, que puede levantar a los muertos a una nueva vida, "siendo rico se hizo pobre por ustedes" (2 Corintios 8:9). Así pues, la nueva vida que recibimos como regalo de Cristo exige una respuesta: nuestra caridad.
